

May 1, 2020 Press Release

Royal Containers proudly announces the acquisition of C&B Display Packaging Inc.

C&B provides inspired packaging solutions. Their eye-catching and high-quality point of purchase displays, gift packs, retail ready packaging and industrial packaging are a perfect match for Royal Containers. Together we offer an expansive array of packaging solutions.

Royal Containers and C&B Display share a desire for strategic growth. After working tirelessly behind the scenes, we are certain our values align. These two critical elements have allowed us to partner. We are positioned to compete in the corrugated marketplace stronger as one.

For our employees this means we will continue to provide a strong and stable work environment. One that assures them future growth and opportunity.

For our customers this means offering expanded services such as online operations, an abundance of graphic and structural design brainpower and unlimited machine capabilities.

For our vendors this means continued relationships that will prosper into even more valuable partnerships.
